

Visual Strategies and Supports for Home and Community

Do you find yourself answering “yes” to any of the following statements?

- I wish I knew what my child wants or needs.
- I would like to see my child be more independent.
- I wish my child was better able to understand my expectations.

FDLRS Action Resource Center
invites you to attend a FREE 2-part workshop!

Tuesday, March 9, 2010
6:30—8:30 pm

Part 1: Schedules & Choice Boards

Tuesday, March 23, 2010
6:30—8:30 pm

Part 2: Supporting Positive Behavior

Presenters: Marcia Sterner, Region 3 Tech Specialist
Beth McAulay, Learning Resource Specialist
Pam Luppert, Parent Services Specialist

Parents are encouraged to attend both sessions. Sorry, childcare not provided.

Sessions are designed for parents of elementary school children with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) or Intellectual Disabilities (InD) and will focus on the use of visual supports paired with speech to make communication with your child easier and more effective. Use of visual supports will allow your child to express wants and needs, complete tasks more independently, and understand expectations of behavior. Parents will have an opportunity to make visual supports for immediate use at home!
